Winner: John R. Hummel Elementary School

The project was threefold, focusing on the school community, the local community, and the global community. For the school community, students created a quilt documenting acts of kindness done by or for them by students and teachers. For the local community, the students painted lap blankets for their local pediatric hospital and Safe Nest. Students also held a donation drive for toiletries which were donated to Safe Nest. They also made a "1 millionth pillowcase" celebratory banner for Ryan's Case for Smiles, which makes pillowcases for sick children. For the global community, the students collaborated on a t-shirt design and put it up for sale on Represent.com. The proceeds were donated to Random Acts.

Staff vote winner: Elias Matar

Elias Matar is a Syrian American, filmmaker, and human rights activist. He documented the flight of Syrian refugees and showed his film in schools, universities, and in private screenings, inspiring others to help.

Public vote winner: SreyRam Kuy, MD, MHS

As Chief Medical Officer for Louisiana's Medicaid program, she instituted the first Zika prevention strategy for pregnant women receiving Medicaid in the country, made sure women had access to BRCA testing, and ensured coverage for breast reconstruction surgery for breast cancer patients. She also coordinated medical efforts for shelters housing people affected by flooding and educated communities about flood health hazards. She is also helping to stem the tide of opioid overdose through initiatives such as doctor training, public education, and limits on opioids and dosing guidelines.

crisis support network

crisis responders sponsored by Random Acts who have successfully made it through training

30%

new certified responders who were added to IMAlive in 2016 constituted from Random Acts sponsored volunteers

- Random Acts-sponsored volunteers completed approximately 2,000 hours in 2016, allowing IMAlive to assist 12% more people. Since most of these certifications happened late in 2016, the impact of these new volunteers will be even more noticeable in 2017.
- Provided To Write Love On Her Arms with a new van so they are better able to travel and share their message with others.
- Partnered with the Pop Culture Hero Coalition as a third partner in the Crisis Support Network. Our partnership with this organization will focus on cyberbullying.

The logo features a stylized sunburst with yellow rays and three stars, containing a blue and yellow triangle. The text "kindness heroes" is written in a bold, sans-serif font to the right of the sunburst.
